This topographic map depicts the Carbonate Mountains region in Utah, featuring a prominent red route that traverses the area. The route begins in the north near Price and Wellington, passes through Huntington and Castle Dale, and continues southward through Ferron, Emery, and Moen, eventually reaching the southern edge of the map. The map is characterized by detailed contour lines indicating elevation, with major peaks such as Sevier Mountain (10,364 feet) and Cedar Mountain (9,564 feet) clearly marked. A network of rivers and creeks, including the Colorado River, San Rafael River, and Muddy Creek, is shown in blue. The map also displays various geographical features like Buckhorn Reservoir, The Wedge, and Window Blinds Peak. A grid system with letters (A, B, C, D, E, F) and numbers (1-15) is overlaid on the map, facilitating location finding. The red route is a key feature, likely representing a major travel corridor or a specific survey path.
